CHURCHES AND PREACHERS.

Rev. J. C. Carmichael's meeting at Scaffold Cane, Rockcastle county, resulted in eight additions to that church.

Revs. Pike and Massee's meeting at Buckeye closed Sunday with 26 additions. Rev. Pike preached at Gilead Sunday, where he had two additions.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church have issued invitations to a praise and prayer service to be held at their church at 2 P. M. on the 27th.

Rev. A. M. Lambert, of Crab Orchard, has just closed a very interesting meeting of 10 days at Rockhold, which resulted in 20 confessions and sanctifications.

Rev. W. M. Kuykendall has just closed a very successful meeting of three weeks with King's church, Garrard county. There were 24 additions—23 by baptism. Most of them were married folks. One old man and wife over 60 years old.

It is said that an English syndicate has secured a concession from the Sultan of Turkey to build a railroad through the Euphrates Valley to the Persian Gulf. If this be true, as seems possible the case, we shall soon be able to go by rail to the site of the Garden of Eden, as it is located by the Bible.

At its session last week, the following was adopted: "The Synod of New York, recognizing with sorrow and alarm an increasing tendency toward a lowered regard for the sacredness of the marriage tie, hereby enjoins upon all its ministers absolutely to refuse to marry divorced persons, except it is the inherent party under a divorce granted for reasons fully recognized in the New Testament."

NEWS OF THE VICINAGE.

W. J. Sparks and Robert Cox will open a big dry goods store at Mt. Vernon.

Pulaski county has a lot of grey crows, says the Progressive Home Journal.

Rev. R. R. Noel will preach at the Hustonville Baptist church next Sunday at 11 A. M.

A crate of rat traps in shipment caught 18 rats in one night in the depot at Mt. Vernon.

The State College football team and the Centre College team tied 11 to 11 at Danville Saturday.

A post office was established at Vose, Laurel county, and Alice Wyatt was appointed postmaster.

Mac Jennings, who shot Arch Mervin at Burkesville, had to be taken to Columbia to prevent lynching.

Fire destroyed the Masonic Hall at Perryville. For a time the whole business portion of the place was threatened.

Syllis Philpot, son of Tom Philpot, the Clay county feud leader, was killed by falling or being thrown from a train near Corbin.

Dora Clay Brock, the divorced wife of Gen. Cassius M. Clay, has borne her new husband a son, and the general wants it named after him.

A report from Clay county says that Sheriff Beverly P. White, Jr., the alleged leader of the White faction in the Baker feud, is at the point of death with typhoid fever.

The court of appeals reversed the judgment of the Boyle circuit court in the case of the L. & N. railroad against John Shoemaker's administrator. The action was brought by Shoemaker's widow to recover damages for the loss of his life while acting as brakeman in Nelson county in September, 1895. She secured judgment for $10,000. The reversal is on errors, and a new trial of the case ordered.

On the opening of the Clay circuit court it was discovered that the records of evidence in the cases against James and Sol Griffin, charged with the murder of Wash Thacker, had been stolen from the office of County Judge Wright. The feudists began gathering in Manchester Sunday night and are still arriving. All are heavily armed and trouble is looked for.

The dead bodies of Buckner McKee and Mrs. John M. Wilson were found on a country road in Anderson county. The two had been criminally intimate for some time and had been indicted for fornication. It is supposed that in order to get out of a bad scrape, the man killed the woman and then suicided. He leaves a wife and child and she was a widow with three small children.

At London the jury in the case of Charles Marsey, charged with the murder of Richard Stapleton, failed to agree. The following were given terms: Dan Owens, murder, life sentence; William Riley, detaining female, two cases, four years in each case; Robert Sailer, arson, two years; Craig Gragg, malicious stabbing and wounding, one year. Not more than 1/4 of the criminal business on hand was disposed of, and the large civil docket, with its 700 or 800 suits, was not touched. Two terms of court have passed there without the civil docket having been called.

Twenty lives are reported to have been lost in the blizzard in Montana.

LANCASTER.

The warrants against Jack Shearer for the illicit sale of liquor were dismissed by Judge Burnside.

Messrs. J. A. Royston and George Russell, of this county, have bought a lively stable in Junction City from Thomas Cecil for $2,100. They take possession on Nov. 1.

Sebastian Stone, of Woodford county, and Miss Mollie Douglas, one of the handsomest and most excellent young ladies in the county, were married today at T. J. Hammonds'. They left at once for their home near Versailles.

Judge T. Z. Morrow will speak here on Nov. 30th, but he will not destroy the impression made today by Hon. G. G. Gilbert, besides that, he had as well attempt to stop a cyclone as to try to change the convictions of the democrats of Garrard county, or to hold all the republicans in line.

Mr. Letcher Owsley will speak today at Winchester. Senator Farris is at home for a few days and he is pleased with the political outlook here and elsewhere. Eld. Holton Frank, son of the late Eld. J. C. Frank, will fill Eld. C. E. Powell's pulpit on the second Sunday in November.

Rev. J. C. Massee's meeting at Buckeye closed on Saturday. There were many converts and the church was greatly benefited. Rev. McKee will continue his meetings at the Presbyterian church through this week. Good crowds attend the night service and much good will be done.

Prof. Patterson has sold over 100 tickets for the lecture of Hon. Alf Taylor, on the night of Nov. 1st. This indicates that a large crowd will be present and those wanting tickets should procure them at R. E. McRoberts' drug store. Those who admire superior oratory, consisting of pathos and humor, should hear the great lecturer on "Life's Poetry and Pearls."

Judge Clifton J. Pratt, republican nominee for attorney general, spoke to about 125 here last Friday. Of course he opposed all democratic doctrine and favored republican so-called principles. He said that Goebel's name had been pronounced several different ways and that after the 7th of November, it would be "Go Bill." That means "Go Bill," and he inaugurated governor of Kentucky.

The grocery store of C. D. Powell was entered on Friday night by forcing a rear door open. Some shoes, clothing and jewelry were taken. On Saturday a pair of new shoes on a colored lad attracted attention and he said that he bought them from Anderson Sutton, a young colored man who once worked for Mr. Powell. The clothing was found on his premises, with the numbers torn off. He was arrested and admitted that he got the goods. Mr. Powell went to the jail and found some of his jewelry on him. It is thought that he is the same party who entered J. M. Logan's store about 10 days ago.

The democratic mass convention to nominate a candidate for the Legislature was well attended and old-fashioned enthusiasm was on tap in abundance. Letcher Owsley, secretary of the committee, called the convention to order. He was elected chairman, C. W. Anderson secretary and M. D. Hughes assistant secretary. G. B. Swinebroad, in a few well chosen remarks full of enthusiasm, nominated William Ray, Jr., of Buckeye, for representative; J. E. Robinson seconded the nomination in a ringing democratic speech. He urged loyalty to the ticket and predicted victory all along the line. There being no other nominations, the nomination of Mr. Ray was made unanimous. Mr. J. T. Hays in answer to repeated calls spoke for a few minutes and proved that he is in the cause body and soul. He showed that the republicans are opposed to legislating against trusts, and that alone should defeat them. Mr. Ray is a perfect gentleman, a good democrat and with a long, hard pull he can win the race, notwithstanding the county is republican by 150. Henry Clay said that Polk would defeat him because he (Polk) was not well-known and had made no enemies in public life. This proved true, and history will repeat itself in this case as Mr. Ray has not been engaged in public life. Mr. L. L. Walker renounced the democratic faith in 1895, and no quarters will be shown him by that party. It is late to nominate, but the leaders have planned the campaign and all will be well. It may be regarded as a gum shoe affair but the result will be approved.

SPAIN'S GREATEST NEED.
Mr. R. P. Oliver, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pain in the back of his head, on using Electric Bitters, America's greatest Blood and Nerve Remedy, all pain soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. All America knows that it cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nervous system, puts vim, vigor and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of the body. If weak, tired or ailing, you need it. Every bottle guaranteed, only 50 cents. Sold by Fenny, Drug-gist.

A dispatch says the "Maryland gold democrats have declared in favor of the republican State and legislative tickets." To h— with such.

HUSTONVILLE.

Dr. Ed Alcorn is enlarging and improving his already handsome home.

Cattle men for miles around will attend J. W. Allen's sale here Saturday. P. M. McRoberts and a Mr. McCartney spoke here Thursday to a rather small crowd.

Two marriages are on the tapis—a young pair and a rather old pair. Guess who they are.

Rose & Reid, successors to Dinwiddie Bros., have finished invoicing and are receiving dead loads of new goods.

Mrs. J. W. Allen has been sick for several days. George D. Weatherford spent several days of last week in Louisville.

W. C. Greening stepped on a nail Saturday, which penetrated his foot nearly an inch, making a cripple of him for the present.

An average of 100 cars of hardwood lumber leave our suburb of Moreland monthly. There were 120 cars in September, Agent B. P. Shewmaker tells us.

The teachers' association Saturday was fairly well attended and the day was spent both pleasantly and profitably. Supt. Garland Singleton was on hand.

J. D. Dalton, of Moreland, will have his guessing contest Nov. 15, at 10 o'clock, when he will give away a splendid range. All guessers are invited to be present.

Mr. D. M. Lipps and his son have taken charge of the Hustonville Roller Mills and are running it 12 hours a day. Both are splendid gentlemen and they will prove an acquisition to our town.

T. H. Smiley, of Lexington, sold to G. D. Shewmaker, of Washington county, his farm of 100 acres, located near Moreland, for $3,000. B. P. Shewmaker, C. S. agent at Moreland, made the deal.

On account of his wife's illness, Judge R. J. Breckinridge did not fill his appointment here Saturday night. He sent R. E. Puryear, of his town, though, and he and Hon. M. F. North did the cause of democracy good.

John Hughes, of the Milledgeville vicinity, was shot in the face a few nights since by Joe Chandler at Hayden Williams'. Chandler claims that Hughes was disturbing his sleep. His face is badly peppered with bird shot, but the wounds are not serious.

On account of his wife's illness, Judge R. J. Breckinridge did not fill his appointment here Saturday night. He sent R. E. Puryear, of his town, though, and he and Hon. M. F. North did the cause of democracy good.

James Frye is back from Cincinnati, where he bought heavily and his new goods are arriving. Miss Jesse Cook was bidding her friends and relatives here farewell Saturday, preparatory to leaving for her new home at Nashville. Judge H. R. Cannitz is ill. D. J. Newburn is book-keeper for the new milling firm.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

Charles P. Gragg and Miss Deane McQuarry will be married at Somerset tomorrow.

Miss Mamie Westerfield, daughter of Frank Westerfield, of Parksville, and sister of L. M. Westerfield, of this place, was married a few days since to Joseph McGintie, of Junction City.

John B. Cheneault, of Richmond, late candidate for the democratic nomination for State auditor, and Miss Lida Burgess, a charming society woman of Maysville, are to marry in November. Statistics show that six-tenths of the women who marry do so between the ages of 20 and 30, about 25 being the best time. After 30 the chances to marry rapidly decrease till it vanishes almost at 60.

It is predicted that the next few months will witness a sweeping consolidation of railroad interests. A combination of the Harriman, Gould and Vanderbilt lines is said to be on the programme. The Norfolk and Southern railroad, extending from Norfolk, Va., to Edenton, N. C., has passed under the control of the [Vanderbilt] railway syndicate.

Half rates to Indianapolis and return via the C. H. & D. Ry., on Oct. 23d and 24th, limited to the 29th for return, on account of the meeting of the Carriage Builders' National Association. Call on your nearest C. H. & D. agent for full particulars.

THANKSGIVING HOLIDAYS, 1899.—Greatly reduced rates via the C. H. & D. Ry. Tickets sold on Nov. 29th and 30th, limited to Dec. 1st for return. Ask your nearest C. H. & D. agent for full particulars regarding the time of trains and rates.

Two robbers shot and killed one man and wounded another while robbing a store at Doniphan, Kan. Later they ambushed and killed a policeman and wounded another man, members of a pursuing posse.

BOBBITT ENTHUSIASTIC.

CRAB ORCHARD, Oct. 23.—What an illustrious trio—Bryan, Goebel and Blackburn, the last mentioned by no means the least! What an immense throng! What enthusiasm! What good it did for the glorious cause of democracy—a government by the people! That is the very derivation of the word, demos, the people, and cratos, power, two Greek words, and the word democracy literally means government by the people—power in the hands of the people.

Col. W. H. Sneed, republican from Frankfort, spoke here Friday night to a large audience. As he and I were acquainted, I introduced him by request, and he held the audience for about two hours with a few less figures and dates than there are in Ray's 3d Part Arithmetic. You can wear the people out with figures. My hired boy, 16 years old, as we went home from the speaking, said: "Well, I would not hear that again for $5." Politicians, give many facts and but few figures or you can not hold your audiences. The next day the speaker spoke about how well we all looked and were dressed well and appeared to be doing well. I remarked that I had four more cents than any man in that audience and I only had four cents. The common class of people have less money and less to winter on than I ever knew them to have. The hungry little mice are leaving my meal tub with tears in their eyes. May Providence and democracy have mercy upon Bobbitt.

A dispatch to the New York World says the Boers have been ordered to leave Johannesburg, and that this step is believed by some to mean that wholesale destruction of property is to be resorted to in the city. Johannesburg is chiefly owned by Englishmen. Detailed reports of the battles at Glencoe camp and Elandslaagte show that the loss of life on both sides was very heavy. Eleven British officers were killed and 23 wounded, 39 men were killed and 151 wounded.

A correspondent wants to know what the war between Great Britain and the Boers is about. Because the English government has asserted suzerainty or control over the Boer Republic, with the implied right to interfere in its internal affairs. This the Boers have denied and are fighting against.

Miami, Fla., is infected with yellow fever. The health officer announces five cases and says there are doubtless several others. He recommends the depopulation of the town. Jackson, Miss., reports five new cases and Key West 15 cases and one death.

Mrs. Lillie Park, who weighed 400 pounds, is dead in Marshall county.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - OCT. 24, 1899

ASKED at Hardinsburg by a friend, Prof. Roberts, of Hardinsburg College, who has now come out against him, who would be elected governor, John Young Brown said: "I will of course." An incredulous look greeted the response when the boss boister added: "Oh! I was joking when I said that. Of course, I know I'll not be elected. It's my opinion that Goebel will win despite everything. If we keep up our fight, however, the Goebel and Blackburn crowd will not be able to control the next Legislature." Such duplicity not only weakened the professor's enthusiasm, but made him tell of the incident and now he and all his friends are lining up for Goebel. Nothing seems more certain than that Brown was put up by the L. & N. and that he accepted its nomination on the promise of the republicans to make him U. S. Senator in case they have the Legislature. But the old fool will find when all is lost for him, including honor, that the L. & N. will drop him like a cold potato and the republicans will give him the icy stare and the cold shake. Alas that vanity and an insatiable longing for office should have proven the ruin of a man who might have otherwise died with some self respect as well as the respect of others.

GOV. BRADLEY spoke to 4,000 voters at the Louisville Auditorium Thursday evening, and made a fine speech from his standpoint. It was mainly in defense of his administration that the democratic platform had assailed and neither Taylor nor his ticket was mentioned till the peroration when he appealed for support for him and the entire lay-out. He jollied old man Brown by speaking of him as sturdy and brave and saying that his was the best democratic administration the State has ever had. There is a bond of union somehow, an umbilical cord as it were, that binds the two men, and it is claimed that Brown voted for Bradley over Hardin, whom he despises as much as Bradley hates Taylor. Gov. Bradley will make speeches at Owensboro and Ashland, and while his support will be worth many votes to the republican ticket, it can't save it. Goebel's lead can not be overtaken and he will come under the string by 25,000 to 30,000 majority.

Two weeks from today, the voters of Kentucky will express themselves in thunder tones against corporations attempting to control elections and give those aggressive concerns a rebuke that will hereafter make them attend strictly and only to the business provided for in their charters. The railroads are mighty good things to have, when they perform their duties of hauling passengers and freight at a reasonable rate, but when they try to dictate to the people, who shall be their officers and openly avow a fight against the democratic nominees, it is time to call a halt and show them that the people and not the corporations intend to rule Kentucky. A cross under the ticket, which will appear on the ballot under the chicken cock, will very effectively put a quietus on the political aspirations of those corporations, which would rule or ruin, and show at the same time your contempt for their methods.

It must be galling on a man of Gov. Bradley's spirit to have to advocate the election of such a political monstrosity as Turney General Taylor, uncouth, illiterate and ill bred. It is the same Taylor, whom he said he would support for U. S. Senator, if he could pass the civil service examination. It takes a man of more good sense and good judgment to be a governor than a Senator, but it seems that Gov. Bradley has not required the examination before taking him for the former office. The only explanation of his course is probably that as between the devil and a democrat, he would take the devil if he was labelled republican.

THE republicans in Lexington and Fayette county put out a full ticket from State Senator to town councilmen and the Herald is hopping mad, because it says that the action destroys the hope of beating Goebel there. Poor old man Breckinridge! The democrats won't have him, the republicans don't want him and the devil must care for his own.

HAVING run out of other things to say about him, W. C. Pollard Breckinridge now accuses Senator Goebel, in the Lexington Herald, of not being pretty. With fire in his eye, thunder in his tones and contempt of Taylor auxiliaries shown in every movement and gesture, it is not to be wondered at that one of them thinks him unbeautiful.

IN his six days' tour of Kentucky and Ohio, Mr. Bryan made 50 speeches besides many short talks. This beats his own record and stamps him as the most wonderful as well as the greatest man of his day.

IN order to counteract the effect of the Bryan swing around the circle, the republicans are going to put Taylor, Willson and Denny on a special train and show them around the State. Gov. Bradley will be importuned to accompany the gang, but his self respect will doubtless keep him out of such a mess. The train will start Oct. 28 and will go everywhere that Bryan's train went. It is too late, however, for such evangelization. The people of Kentucky have decided before this that no such an accident, political and otherwise, as Taylor shall rule over them.

BYRAN was hissed at Findley, noticing which he said: "I am glad to know that there are republicans present and hope they will learn something before I get through." The quiet rebuke silenced the cowardly disturbers and the speaker proceeded as if nothing had happened.

WE give Mr. Bryan's speech at the Jockey Club grounds barbecue, at Louisville, in full in this issue. It will bear the closest perusal and do you good whether you be a republican or bolting democrat.

ABOUT 450,000 votes will be cast in Kentucky on the 11th, prox., and Mr. Goebel will get 250,000 of them. Do you mind that?

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

The Richmond republicans will not put up a ticket for municipal offices. If farmers could raise Bessamer pig they might enjoy some of the boasted prosperity.

Senator Goebel will spend the most of this week in Louisville, where he will make a number of speeches.

Newton Elliston, a prominent farmer and democrat of Woodford, is dead as the result of a kick from a horse.

Bill Owens spoke to about 500 Brownies, Negroes and other republicans at Louisville Saturday night and as usual made an ass of himself.

By advice of his physician Admiral Dewey has cancelled his proposed trips to Philadelphia and Atlanta, and will accept no more invitations.

Admiral Schley on being asked if he would accept a nomination for president if it were tendered him, replied emphatically in the negative.

William J. Bryan will start to-day on a special train for a speech-making tour of Nebraska. He expects to make more than a hundred speeches.

In a speech at Cleveland, Senator Hanna said that the combination of capital is not a political question at all, being a business matter which ought not to have been brought into politics.

Wife number two of Congressman-elect Roberts, of Utah, has increased the hue and cry about the ears of that polygamous statesman by presenting him with another babe.

If you want to know what the people outside of this State are longing for and looking for, let me tell you they are longing and looking for a victory for the Goebel ticket that will be so large that no republican anywhere will expect to carry Kentucky in 1900.

Bryan said more than once in his Kentucky speeches: "If bolting democrats want to vote for republicans, or for a democrat put up in opposition to the regular nominee of the party, let them do it, but let them come out nobly and state their real object and not claim they are doing it to save me."

In speaking of the charge that he was an L. & N. candidate, John Young Brown said at LaGrange: "Any man who says I am backed by the L. & N. is a pusillanimous scoundrel and an infamous liar, and if they continue these assertions I will call the names of the men who accuse me. I am not too old now to defend my honor." Nor to shoot a butcher either, if he sells him bad steak.

Col. Jack Chinn said to a Cincinnati Post reporter: "P. Wat Hardin, the oft-defeated candidate for office, is in an awful predicament. He won't take the stump for Goebel or for anyone but himself. He will be a candidate for governor of Kentucky the next day after election, as he has been for 20 years past, and will continue a candidate until defeated again four years hence."

Hon. C. B. Poyntz ridicules Deboe's prediction of bloodshed, and says that Goebel will be elected governor next month by at least 30,000, and inaugurated by more enthusiasm than any governor in our great and good old State.

He will carry every congressional district in the State except the 11th. His majority in his (the Ninth) will be 1,000, and in the 10th 1,500. He has the sturdy yeomanry, the real people, who can not be bullied or bribed. Mr. John S. Hughes, the traveling man of Harrodsburg, said to the Cincinnati Enquirer: "The bolting business has been broken up by Bryan's visit to our State. Our country, the home of P. Wat Hardin, where 250 bolters were claimed, has dropped to 125. In my native county of Lincoln, where they heretofore claimed 150 bolters, they do not now claim more than 40, and probably that number will not show up on election day. The State is certainly democratic, and North, the democratic nominee for the Legislature from Lincoln county, will be elected beyond all doubt. The bolt in that section of the State does not amount to a row of pins, and the democratic majority will be up in the tens of thousands in the State."

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

COL. T. B. DEMAREE will make a free talk to the temperance people of Stanford, Friday night, Oct. 27th, at the court house. All are invited.

THERE are two full grown town ticks in the field for councilmen as follows: First, G. L. Penny, B. F. Rout, Dr. E. J. Brown, Dr. W. B. O'Bannon, Ed Wilkinson and G. B. Wearren. Second, Dr. J. F. Peyton, A. B. Florence, M. D. Elmore, J. M. Stone, J. S. Hunley and Peter Straub, Jr. The last named are said to be run by the contractionists, who want to reduce the town boundary to keep from paying taxes.

BLACK—One of the best, if not the very best, speeches that has been delivered here this campaign was that of Hon. James D. Black, of Barbourville, at the court-house last night. The room was comfortably filled, nearly all parts of the county being represented, large delegations coming from McKinney, Hustonville, Turgoersville and Moreland. Mr. Black began by showing how republicans had gotten into power by the false charges of rottenness at Frankfort and a demand to see the books. They had seen the books but to this good day they had found nothing wrong. They promised to reduce taxation and instead had raised it 10 cents on the $100 and had failed to pay the debt they claimed the increase for. Promising to increase the school per capita, they had the first year of power reduced it from $2.85 to $2.20, then made it $2.30 and now that it is election year and for campaign purposes they had raised it to $2.70. The Chinn School Book Bill, which the republicans oppose, was explained in the clearest manner and it was shown how greatly it would benefit the children of Kentucky. Under it spellers and first readers would be reduced from 17 to 10c and there would be a saving all along the line up to and exceeding 25c a book. The reduction may not cut a big figure in the blue-grass but in the mountains where the common school is the only chance for education, it amounted to a vast deal. The school book trust is fattening off the poor children of the State and it and all other trusts and combines should be downed. In advocacy of the election law, Mr. Black was especially strong. He showed how republican judges in the 11th district had ignored the law to divide the officers of election, how hundreds of men from Virginia and Tennessee came over and voted in every election, how he had proved by the sheriff of Claiborne county, Tenn., that he voted at Middleboro, how D. G. Colson and his henchmen ran elections at the latter place and how frauds of every kind were used to republican advantage. The Goebel law will put a stop to such frauds and that is why the republicans are mad. Honest elections are what they do not want, but what they will get under the new law. The talk of bloodshed, however, is bosh and scares no one. Closing Mr. Black paid a high tribute to Senator Goebel and said that his supporters in the Louisville convention were far the most orderly and well behaved there. Of Hon. M. F. North, whom he had known for 20 years, he was particularly eulogistic. Born in the mountains where it is something to be a democrat he had always championed its principles and shown himself an honest and an upright man. He appealed to the bolters to come back to the fold and uniting with their friends again help to give the ticket to Goebel to North a majority that will convince the world of our earnestness. Although 24 hours long the speech was listened to with the closest attention and its best parts cheered to the echo. It was a vote maker and if it could be heard all over the State, few indeed would there be who would be mean enough to vote the republican ticket.

Hon. R. C. Warren introduced Mr. Black in complimentary terms. Pal Rogers raised many a laugh by his responses to the speaker, who told many good and pointed anecdotes in addition to his telling arguments.

Senator Goebel spoke at Jackson yesterday to a good crowd.

Three men were killed in a wreck on the Norfolk & Western in North Carolina.

Wesley James, of Charlotte, N. C., has just married his 9th wife. All the others are dead.

Mrs. J. C. Barlow, of Daviess county, took carbolic acid for castor oil, and died in great agony.

Ephraim David Sayre, president of the Kentucky Bankers' Association, died at Lexington after a short illness of acute stomach trouble. He was 79 years of age.

On Sept. 30th, the debt of the United States was: Interest-bearing debt, $1,046,048,850; debt on which interest has ceased, since maturity, $1,215,030; debt bearing no interest, $389,337,512; total, $1,436,601,392.

The forthcoming report of the Controller of the Currency will show that since the first day of January, 1899, up to the 21st, 58 National banks have been organized in the several States and territories with an aggregate capital of $8,820,000. One only was organized in Kentucky.

Banker McKnight, who is accused of wrecking the German National Bank, of Louisville, was granted a new trial. The original indictment against him contained over 100 counts. He was found guilty on about four counts and was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment at the Columbus, O., penitentiary by Judge Barr. Pending the action of the higher court on his appeal, he has been out on bond in the sum of $12,000.

LAND AND STOCK.

Over 50 pacers have entered the 2:10 list this year.

W. A. Carson sold to H. H. Logan a pair of mules for $100.

Isaac Hamilton sold two mule colts at Lancaster yesterday at $25.

Blackleg is killing cattle in the vicinity of Newby, Madison county.

Josiah Anderson bought of Newell, of Pulaski, a yoke of oxen for $90.

The cotton crop yield in the South this year is estimated at 9,000,000 bales.

The Harrodsburg Democrat reports the sale of 200 barrels of old corn at $1.50.

Hon. G. A. Lackey says it was $1.76 per barrel that his corn brought, instead of $1.66 as our types got it.

S. M. Owens sold to Mack Hughes, of Danville, a black harness gelding for $125 and a bay horse for $112.50.

FOR SALE—I have 83 nice, long yearlings or short two-year old steers for sale. John W. Miller, Lancaster.

W. O. Brock, of Clark county, sold $9,712 worth of tobacco from 75 acres of land, realizing in one season more than the land is worth.

Jonas Weil has purchased of Sidney G. Clay, of Bourbon, 90 fat cattle, averaging 1,500 pounds, to be delivered Nov. 1st at 5c.—Cynthiana Democrat.

Stock men generally are pleased with Rice Benge's stock pens at Lancaster and they greatly prefer to pay 10c per head to keep them there than run after them on the street. There were about 700 cattle there yesterday, where all sales were made.

The chestnut crop is a failure this year—so Muldraugh's Hill denizens tell us. There is a heavy beech and acorn mast. Nutting parties are frequent, there being plenty of walnuts and some hickory nuts. The wild grape is scarce this year.—Lebanon Falcon.

Cal Newman, of Hanover, Penn., bought two cars of young mules, two and three years old, at $50 to $70. Carithers & Beard, of Lexington, bought 20 mules at from $70 to $100. Mr. Peters, of Bath county, sold a pair of mare mules at $240.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

LANCASTER COURT.—There were between 600 and 800 cattle on the Lancaster market yesterday but two-thirds of them went home unsold. A few good yearlings sold as high as 4c but 4.10 was the ruling price. Heifers were from one cent to 14 cents lower. Butcher cattle sold at 2 to 3c. The following private sales were made: J. M. Roberts sold a bunch of cows at 2c, some heifers at 3c and a bull at 3c; D. M. Anderson sold to Fox & Lawson 30 yearling cattle at $22.50; G. A. Siler sold a lot of heifers to Rus Denton at 3.10; Pence & Cordier bought 13 heifers at $21; G. A. Swinebroad sold 10 steers at 4c and some heifers at 3c. A few mule colts sold at $20 to $40; aged mules $10 to $100. Horses were dull. The crowd was about up to the average.

Miss Minnie Hawkins, who visited Mrs. Wm. Hamilton last summer, was married in Jeffersonville, last week to Frank Bancroft, of Louisville.

Revs. S. H. Jones and Ed Hubbard's meeting at Mt. Moriah continues with large crowds. There have been no additions so far, but the church members have been greatly awakened.

VALID REASONS

Presented by Mr. Bryan For Supporting Goebel.

AN APPEAL TO KENTUCKIANS

Of the Democratic Persuasion to Fight the Common Enemy.

REPLY TO JOHN YOUNG BROWN

Kill the Bears and Then Tackle
the Mosquitoes, Says He.

EVILS THREATENING THE REPUBLIC

While Not Denying the Right of Every Man to Vote as He Desires, He Points Out the Danger of Losing the Blue Grass State.

The tour through Kentucky of Democracy's fearless leader, Hon. William J. Bryan, was one of triumph. At every point where he was billed to speak great crowds turned out to greet him. Our gallant standard bearer, Hon. William Goebel, accompanied the Nebraska orator on his trip and was accorded magnificent ovations. Burning issues of the hour were expounded by Mr. Bryan to sympathetic throngs. The great orator at all places portrayed the necessity of united and harmonious action on the part of Kentucky Democrats at this time. National issues, he said, imperatively demand that they rally around the standard of William Goebel, thus wresting the state from Republican misrule and insuring sweeping success of the people's cause in 1900.

When the distinguished party reached Louisville 25,000 enthusiastic people were in waiting at the barbecue. Both Colonel Bryan and Hon. William Goebel received flattering ovations and both responded by delivering ringing addresses. Mr. Bryan's speech in full follows:

BRYAN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Chairman and Ladies and Gentlemen: I am glad that I have an opportunity to address so many of the good people of Kentucky on this occasion. My coming needs no explanation, no apology. I am here because I am still interested in the triumph of those principles set forth in the Chicago platform and reaffirmed in the platform adopted at Louisville. (Applause.)

When I arrived this morning a messenger handed me a letter and told me that it was from Ex-Governor John Young Brown. (Applause and hisses and cries of "Read it.") It asks me to answer certain questions. I came here to this state to answer those questions. (Applause.)

It states in the first place—well, it does not state. (Laughter.)

The letter says: "If it be true that a secret written bargain was made prior to the late Louisville Music hall convention between Messrs. Goebel and Stone, and so forth, 'if it be true that a secret written bargain was made,' and then he sets forth what he understands the written bargain to be, and says: 'If it be true that this bargain was executed, then do you state that the action of such substituted delegates could give Goebel the nomination of the Democratic party; was not such a contract fraudulent?' and then he asks whether the chairman of a sovereign body ought to entertain an appeal, and then if such things were done, as he claims, 'is not this a menace to free government; and do you indorse the Goebel election law?' If so, please explain why you advocate free government for the people of the Philippines and deny it to the people of Kentucky? Have you any plea save that of political expediency to justify submission by American citizens to the outrages above indicated. Very respectfully yours.

"JOHN YOUNG BROWN."
(Voices—Pour it into him now.)

Replies to Brown.

Mr. Bryan—Let me say in the first place, that I did not come to Kentucky to investigate the details of a state convention and sit in judgment upon the things done in that convention. I did not come to this state to discuss the details of an election law. I came to this state to say, and I want to say it with emphasis, that if there was in that convention anything done that a Democrat does not think ought to have been done, I want to ask what remedy that Democrat is going to offer to remedy the wrong that he thinks was done? I ask of the Democrat who complains of that convention what his remedy is. Is it to elect a Republican governor and Republican officers in the state of Kentucky? (Cries of no, no.) If that is the remedy proposed, I want the Democrat who applies the remedy to apply it with a full knowledge of the responsibility that he assumes. The man who attempts to correct a Democratic convention by electing a Republican governor assumes responsibility for all that that governor does after he has elected him. (Applause.)

We are in the midst of a great contest—a contest in which plutocracy is on the one side and Democracy is on the other side. We had a campaign in 1896, when the Republican party was compelled to raise from the corporations of the nation such a campaign fund as no party ever used before. Aye! more than that, a campaign fund that I think I may safely say was larger than all the campaign funds used by the Republican party from the days of Fremont to the days of Hanna.

We had that campaign. By the use of money and coercion the Republican party won. It has made not an advance, but a retreat even from the position that it occupied in 1896. It is worse today than it was then, and is applying to every question the same vicious principles that it applied to the question before the country in 1896.

We are on the eve of another national campaign—a campaign that will determine whether this is to be a government of the people, by the people and for the people, or a government of monopolies, by monopolies and for monopolies. (Applause.) You met in convention at Louisville; you indorsed the Chicago platform. The platform adopted at Louisville contained not only an indorsement of the Chicago platform, but it announced the party's position on the new questions that have arisen since; and that platform, among other things, indorsed the Goebel election law. There was no minority report in that convention. There was no fight on that platform, and when that convention adjourned, and the ticket was nominated, that ticket stood before the country as representative of that platform.

The Bolters' Convention.

Some Democrats met and organized another convention. It was not a convention called in the regular way, nor a convention to which delegates were sent in the regular way. It was a convention formed of those men who were opposed to the other ticket that was nominated. It can not be called a representative convention. It can not be called a convention representing the Democratic voters of this state; and now the ticket nominated by the bolting convention is in this campaign with no possible prospect of election, and with but one influence, and that is to aid in the election of the Republican ticket. (Applause.) And the basis upon which they rest their fight is that the convention that met at Louisville did things that relieved the voters from any obligation to support the ticket. When a man tells you that you are justified in helping to elect a Republican governor, you ask him whether if Mr. Taylor had been a candidate against Mr. Goebel in that convention, there would have been any doubt of Mr. Goebel's nomination in that convention. (Applause.)

Because a man was nominated who the bolters do not like, or to whose nomination they objected, they offer as a remedy the election of a Republican governor and Republican state officers. I want to say to you, my friends, that in my humble judgment, you have time to settle your grievances after this without jeopardizing every great principle that you love, and for which you have been fighting. (Applause.) You may think what you believe of that convention. You may think what you please as to the relative merits of the candidates before that convention. You may think what you please of the method employed in that convention. Today the question is not between the men who were candidates before that convention. The question is whether you will elect the ticket nominated on that platform or a Republican ticket.

That is the question submitted to the people of Kentucky, and you may think all you please and say all you like against the ticket nominated, and against the platform or against the convention that nominated the ticket; and yet that ticket and that platform stand for Democratic principles and Democratic policies, as against Republican candidates, Republican platforms and Republican principles. (Applause.)

I have never denied the right of a man to bolt. In fact, I have always insisted that a man's vote belonged to him, and to him only. There were bolters in 1896. I had a chance to say things hard against bolters because my nomination came from a convention elected by the people, and nobody ever rose to dispute the authority of that convention. A platform was adopted by two-thirds of that convention, and I was nominated by two-thirds, and yet never during the campaign did I say one word in abuse of any man who felt it his duty to vote against me. I said if a man believed that my election would be injurious to the country, then he ought to vote against me.

But, my friends, those who voted against me took the responsibility of helping to elect a Republican president, and became responsible for every thing that a Republican president did. (Applause.)

Responsible For Republicans.

And so I say that if there is a man in this state who believes it is his duty to vote against Mr. Goebel and the Goebel ticket, I have not one word to say in criticism of his act; but I want him to know that when he does it he assumes responsibility for the election of a Republican governor. Whether he votes directly for a Republican governor, or votes for Mr. Brown, and thus enables a Republican governor to be elected, no matter what he does, if he does not support the Goebel ticket, he becomes responsible for the actions of the Republican administration.

Do you want to know why I am here? I am here because I love the principles written in the Chicago platform. I believe it to be a new declaration of American independence, and I believe in those additional planks written in the Louisville platform against the trusts and against imperialism. I believe that the safety of this nation is imperiled by Republican policies, and because I believe that this nation's safety, its welfare and its institutions are in danger, therefore I come from my Nebraska home to warn you that if you help to elect a Republican governor, you put it in his power to defeat those principles at a critical moment. (Applause.)

We have an election in 1900. We can not tell how large the majority will be in this state, but if you have a Republican counting machine that has no conscience, it doesn't matter much how large the majority may be. We can not get it, no matter how large our majority. I believe that in 1896 there were votes counted for the Republican ticket in this state that were never cast, and that I carried the state of Kentucky. (Applause.)

In 1900 there will be another election, and if you elect a Republican governor, then that Republican governor will be the man who must sign the certificates of election, which shall be the authority of the electors of this state, and if you elect a Republican governor, and that Republican governor stands in with the plutocratic authorities of the nation, that are now behind the Republican party, you will become responsible for the action of that Republican governor at a critical time, when the fate of a nation hangs in the balance. (Great applause.)

The constitution says that the governor shall have the power to fill vacancies that may occur in the senate when there is no legislature in session.

The governor whom you elect this fall will occupy the chair for four years; and during those four years he will have the right to fill vacancies in the senate. If you elect a Republican governor he will stand ready to fill a vacancy with a Republican. If you elect Goebel he will be sure to fill the vacancy with a Democrat who stands on the Chicago platform. (Applause.)

Value of One Vote.

Sometimes the vote in the senate is close. Sometimes so close that a single vote will determine the passage of a bill. It is only a few months ago that the Bacon resolution came before the senate. No more important resolution has been before that body in recent years; and when the roll was called the vote on that resolution was a tie, and the Republican vice president cast the deciding vote, and voted no.

That resolution promised to the Filipinos independence and self-government as soon as a stable government could be established, and because Kentucky was represented in the United States senate by a Republican, who was elected when Jo Blackburn ought to have been elected—(applause)—that resolution was defeated when it would have been carried if Jo Blackburn had been there.

I can not tell, you can not tell, no human being can tell what questions may arise, nor can we tell how close the vote may be on questions during the next few years. We hope to win a victory in 1900. We hope to take the executive office out of the hands of the Republicans and put it in the hands of a Democrat; but, my friends, what good will it do us to elect a Democratic president, and then tie his hands with a Republican senate?

You tell me that you are interested in these questions that are now before the people. If you are, you dare not risk the fate of this republic and a decision in the senate—you dare not risk it in the hands of a Republican governor. It may be that just at the critical time when some question of great moment is before the senate, and when the senate is close, it may be that there will be a vacancy. Human life is uncertain. None of us know how soon the summons may come to us, but if you have a Republican there you know that every opportunity that presents itself will be improved by a Republican governor by the appointment of a Republican to the senate.

I am not willing to risk the fate of this government, I am not willing to risk the settlement of great questions in order to come down and settle the details of a state convention, where one Democrat was nominated and another was defeated. (Applause.) If there is a man here who feels that it is his duty to vote against the Goebel ticket, I want him to understand that when he does it he risks all these questions that he says he is interested in.

I appreciate the compliment paid to me by the Brown convention. It indorsed me for the presidency, and that is a compliment. It is a compliment to any man to be indorsed for the presidency, and I have had it suggested that because that convention indorsed me for the presidency, therefore I must stay in Nebraska and watch the people who support that ticket help elect a Republican governor in the state of Kentucky. (Applause.) If I were to do that I would be placing my own personal interests above the welfare of the country, and for the principles for which I fought. (Applause.)

A New Reason.

And I want to say to the Brown men that while I am glad to have them think well of me, I am glad to have them have confidence in me, I want to tell them that I am going to give them a new reason for loving me and having confidence in me. I am going to tell them that I would rather every one of them would vote against me and stand by the principles of Democracy, than stand by me and vote to elect a Republican governor. (Great and continued applause.) I have a higher ambition than being president of the United States. (Applause.)

I have an ambition that can be shared by every citizen. If I know my own heart, my highest ambition is to do all within my power to make this government so good that to be an American citizen will be greater than to be a king. (loud applause), and I want to show you my interest in Democratic principles by coming to Kentucky, and warning you of the risks you take when you array yourselves against a ticket that stands upon a platform that indorses the Chicago platform ideas. Let me repeat, I want to burn the words into your memories, that while you have a right to bolt, yet when you bolt you assume responsibility for all that your bolting does.

What has your bolt done in this state? It has divided democracy into warring factions, and the Brown Democracy has spent its time denouncing the Goebel Democracy, instead of denouncing the Republican party. (Great applause.)

My friends, there will be time enough when this election is over to adjust the equities between Democrats. Now we are trying to remedy the injustice that Republicanism is forcing upon the United States. (Applause.) This bolt in this state, this division of Democracy into warring factions, is the only hope of the Republican party in this state. The Republicans have no hope of winning over a united Democracy, but if they can divide Democracy, then they may hope for the triumph of a minority over a defeated majority. The only hope that they have of electing a Republican senator in this state is to divide Democracy into warring factions, and I want you to understand that if your bolting jeopardizes the election of Joseph C. S. Blackburn you become responsible for six years of Republicanism in the senate of the United States. (Applause.)

I believe in an income tax. I believe it is a just tax. I believe the present system by which we collect all the taxes to support the federal government, or practically all, in time of peace from tax upon consumption—I say I believe the system is unjust and inequitable, because it makes the poor pay more than their share and the rich pay less, and I want Jo Blackburn in the senate to vote for an amendment to the constitution that will specifically authorize an income tax, so that neither one judge nor nine judges can build a legal bulwark around the fortunes of the great. (Loud applause.)

Blackburn's Vote Needed.

The Republican party is attempting to retire the greenbacks. The Democratic party is opposed to the retirement of the greenbacks, and I want Jo Blackburn in the senate to vote against the retirement of the greenbacks and a national bank currency, because the national banks are seeking to secure from the federal government the right to issue and control the paper money of the country; and I want Jo Blackburn there to stand for six years as the representative of the toiling and producing masses against the policy of the money-changers on this money question.

The question of the nation's standard money will be before the senate. Mr. McKinley sent a commission to Europe to get rid of the gold standard by international bimetalism, and the laboring men of England wanted England to help us, and the farmers of England wanted England to help us, but the bankers of London did not want England to help us, and the bankers controlled the English government, and the English government controlled the policy of Europe, and Europe, through the Republican party, is controlling the policy of the United States, and I want Jo Blackburn in the United States senate to vote for the American financial policy for the American people. (Loud applause.)

The trust question will come before that senate. The trusts have grown up with greater rapidity during the last two years than ever before, and they seek now to gather all the great industries into the hands of a few men, where a few men can fix the price of all that you buy, fix the price of all the raw material that you sell, and fix the wages paid to those who convert raw material into finished products. You can not annihilate the trusts until the senate is on our side, and I want Jo Blackburn in the United States senate to vote on every occasion for the annihilation of the trusts and the monopoly in private hands.

We have another question. The Republican party desires an increase in the standing army. Mr. McKinley asked congress to raise the army from 25,000 men to 100,000, and the Republican house of representatives, prompt to do the bidding of a Republican president, voted for a bill that raised the army to 100,000, and that question is still before the country, because that bill was only defeated by a combination of Democrats, Populists and silver Republicans in the senate.

Want a Larger Army.

The president and the Republican party still want a large standing army. I believe that a large standing army would be not only a burden to the American people, but would be a menace to liberty itself. If you want to know the menace of a large army, go to France and witness the proceedings of the Dreyfus trial. There was an innocent man convicted because the

MISS ELLA LEE BARNETT, of Hubble, has scarlet fever.
MISS MAGGIE RIDDER, of Indiana, is visiting Mrs. Thomas Dalton.
MRS. L. A. FARRIS, of Lexington, is visiting her father, Mrs. J. H. Rout.
TRUEHEART BOURNE was down from Central University for several days.
MISS EMMA OWSLEY is in Danville with her sister, Mrs. J. S. Wells, who is ill.
MRS. JANE SHARP and little grandson, of Liberty, are visiting relatives here.
MR. AND MRS. T. C. GULLEY, of Garrard, were here returning from Louisville.
D. S. PURDOM, of Mt. Vernon, spent several days with his parents in the Hubble section.
RICHARD PETTUS, of Lincoln, was visiting his father, Judge W. H. Pettus.—Somerset P. H. Journal.
J. A. HIGGINS and wife, of Richmond, spent Sunday with W. H. Higgins, on returning from the Synod.
MISS CATHERINE AND DORA BAUGHMAN, of Madison Female Institute, spent Saturday and Sunday at home.
MR. WILL MYERS and handsome daughter, Miss Julia, of Liberty, have been the guests of his brother, Mr. Lee Myers.
CAPT. J. B. DOUGLAS and wife, of Jellico, were here a few days ago on their way to Garrard county to visit relatives.
MISS ALYCE BAUGHMAN accompanied Mrs. M. S. Baughman on her return from Danville yesterday and is now her guest.
MRS. JAMES SEWELL, of Independence, Mo., who has been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Pence, started home yesterday.
MRS. F. J. CAMPBELL has so far recovered her health as to be able to visit her daughter in Lexington.—Somerset P. H. Journal.
MISS MAYME ELLIOTT, well-known here, had the honor of presenting Mr. Bryan with a bouquet at Mayfield and of receiving his thanks beautifully expressed.
MISS MARY RICE, who has spent some time with her aunt, Mrs. Lizzie Rice, of the Hedgeville section, was called to her home at Galveston, Texas, by the illness of her father.
MRS. JOE B. WILLIAMS and Mr. Jason Wesley were here from Middleburg Saturday. Mr. Wesley tells us that our correspondent, Clarence Coleman, at last got into the army.
AL ROEHN, formerly of the Ottenheim section, has secured a position as clerk of the St. Nicholas Hotel, Corner 6th and Court Place, Louisville, and wants his friends to call and see him when in the city.
News comes from Lexington that Mrs. C. C. Sink, daughter of Mr. A. C. Carman, has been stricken blind and the case pronounced hopeless. Blindness was produced by a blood clot and came very suddenly, first in one eye and in a few minutes in the other.
MESSRS. W. H. AND GEORGE B. WEAREN and J. F. Cummins are representing Diadem lodge, No. 81, K. of P. at the grand lodge at Henderson. Mrs. Cummins is spending the time in Louisville. J. P. Foster, representing the lodge at Pittsburg, passed down Sunday.
DR. J. L. COOK, who has been practicing medicine with Dr. L. B. Cook very successfully for a year or so, left this morning for Monticello, where he will visit awhile and then go to the Chicago Polyclinic for a course of lectures. His many friends here hope he will return and locate.
SENATOR GEORGE T. FARRIS came up from Louisville Saturday, where he has been for six weeks. He says the republican claim that they will carry the city by 10,000 is all bosh. With a knowledge of the situation he is confident the democrats will carry it by 5,000 or 6,000.
ANNOUNCEMENT.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alcorn have issued invitations to friends out of the county to the marriage of their daughter Annie and Hon. J. N. Saunders, on the evening of Nov. 1, at 8 o'clock, Presbyterian church. No invitations will be issued in the county, they preferring to open the church doors without any formality to all who feel interested enough to witness their nuptials.
AT a recital and reception given by Mrs. Buford, the head of "The Academy" at Clarksville, Tenn., the Leaf-Chronicle of that city says of a lady well known here: "Miss Howard, a stylish brunette, appeared in exquisite evening costume of white, with light blue trimmings. Her perfect rendition of the first two piano numbers, from Chopin and Thome, displayed her fine technique and excellent interpretation of difficult compositions."

MISS MINNIE MUNDAY spent several days in Burgin.
MR. R. P. ADAMS has been sick for a week, but is out again.
CARROLL PORTMAN, who has been working at Burgin, is at home for a few days.
ANOTHER boy has been added to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Forestus Reid, and he has been named Virgil Bowman.
MR. C. C. FIELDS, of Downs, Ill., who has been visiting his sisters, Mrs. Matilda Davis and Mrs. Kate Dudderar, returned home yesterday.
MRS. J. S. OWSLEY, JR., will entertain the Economical Lunch on Club Thursday afternoon from 2 to 4. All the members of the former club are invited and expected.
DR. R. A. JONES saw the game of foot ball at Danville Saturday between State College and the Centre eleven, which resulted in a tie. A brother of the doctor played with the State College eleven.
REV. J. B. CROUCH and wife went to Louisville yesterday, where Mr. Crouch will perform the marriage ceremony of his kinsman, A. G. Compton, freight agent of the Atkinson, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, to Mrs. Edwards, of the Falls City.

CAPE.—Mr. T. P. Tuttle found a cape while coming to town yesterday, that the owner can get by proving property.
STOCK your winter coal now, prices are advancing and the probability now is that delay will cost you high. J. H. Baughman & Co.
TOM PHILLIPS asks us to say that the man who was shot circus night was not in his house at the time, but in Anderson Carr's.
NOTICE.—Pay your city taxes to L. R. Hughes. After Nov. 1st, 6 per cent will be added and collections enforced. O. J. Newland, city marshal.
OUT OF SHAPE.—Miss Nettie Wray, manager of the exchange, says the Kingsville telephone line is in very bad order and that she hopes the owners will get it in shape.
TRIAL.—A. G. Coffey and son, Albert, will be tried this morning for attempting to shoot and otherwise intimidate W. W. Pitman and wife. The latter is a tenant on Coffey's farm and they had some trouble over their tobacco crop and have not been on good terms since. The other day, Coffey and his son went to Pitman's and after throwing his things out of the crib put some of their farming implements in it and nailed it up. Pitman protested and they put guns and pistols against his breast and cursing him said they would kill him. They also, according to Mr. Pitman, made Mrs. Pitman get down on her knees and beg for mercy.

LANCASTER.—A court-house chuck full of people heard Hon. G. G. Gilbert's splendid speech at Lancaster yesterday and that it did the cause of democracy good there is no doubt. He was introduced in a neat speech by that good democrat, Senator Geo. T. Farris. T. B. Demaree followed him with a talk for the prohibition ticket, but hardly a tenth of the crowd remained to hear him. Democrats were in high feather generally and are confident of carrying Garrard both for Ray and Goebel. The nomination of Mr. Ray for representative gives general satisfaction. Marriage license was issued yesterday to Dr. J. E. Chace and Miss Helen Thompson, of Ocala, Fla. Miss Thompson is a sister of Mrs. Elder C. E. Powell, at whose home the marriage was to have occurred this morning. The Mason Hotel was taken down at $3,908. Mr. J. B. Carter, of Cartersville, was the bidder.

New Battenburg patterns and laces. John P. Jones.
WHILE playing circus and trying to imitate some of the trapeze performers that were here with the Sellis', Jim Brady fell and dislocated one of his elbows.
THE Stanford foot ball team starts out with victory inscribed on its banner, as did the base ball team. The Lancasters came over Saturday and were shut out 6 to 0.

DIME novel reading is being indulged in by many of the small boys here, we are sorry to say. Attention of parents generally is called to this bad habit their offspring have gotten into.
THE Mt. Vernon Signal says that G. M. Davison is to speak there Thursday. A great, rich, rare and racy is in store for our Rockcastle friends. The grey gelding is a speaker from Speakersville.

Two colored people had their sins washed away in the pond this side of the water works Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large crowd. They professed religion under Rev. G. W. Bolling, who baptized them.

THE Southern railroad engineers, under Capt. Joel Mabel, who have been encamped at the water works here, struck their tents yesterday and moved to Halls Gap. Capt. Mabel tells us that the route via Danville here is a very practical one and can be built with no extraordinary outlay. Capt. W. H. Respass, who is in charge of the party that ran the line via Lancaster, was here Sunday from his camp at Mt. Vernon, expecting to meet Maj. Wells, the chief engineer. He says that the Lancaster line is an expensive one, requiring besides others, a high bridge 750 feet long. We dislike to have to keep our Lancaster friends out of the road, but if we do, they must charge it to our shortness and cheapness of route and general advantages.

HAVE your coal hauled while it is dry. J. H. Baughman & Co.
JUDGE R. J. BRECKINRIDGE will speak at Milledgeville Thursday evening, 26th, at 7 o'clock and at Crab Orchard on Saturday, 28th, at 2 o'clock. Let every democrat, every republican and every wavering man hear these speeches and the democratic ticket will have free course and be glorified.

SAMPLE BALLOT.—On our third page will be found a sample of the ballot to be voted two weeks from to-day. It contains the names of each party and its candidates with their separate devices. The first column is ours. Let it be yours by marking in the square under the rooster. That's all that is necessary. When you have done that your vote will be counted for the full ticket.

ATTEMPTED RAPE.—Craig Baugh was tried before Judge Bailey yesterday for attempted rape on Mrs. Wm. Clymer, of the Highland section, and held id $200 bond to the circuit court, which he gave. Mrs. Clymer claims that Baugh went to her house and made violent demonstrations, catching hold of her and attempting to pull her out of the house. She expostulated with him and begged him to go away, which he finally did. Baugh swore that if he made any such demonstrations he does not remember them and that he certainly intended to use no force. C. C. Williams, Esq., of Mt. Vernon, who represented Baugh, tried to prove that Mrs. Clymer had a bad character a number of years ago, but the judge would not permit him to present the evidence. Baugh married a sister of Mr. Clymer, the husband of the woman who brings the accusation, and has several children. Mrs. Clymer is a good looking woman of 35 and while she may have been deeply insulted, the neighbors do not think it a wanton attempt at assault.
